950 EUR

Period : 19th century

Condition : Bon état

Material : Oak

Description

Remarkable pair of English Victorian-style armchairs, illustrating all the decorative richness and craftsmanship of 19th-century-inspired furniture. Made from solid oak, these armchairs feature extensive hand-carving, with expressive scrolls, floral motifs and remarkable sculptural elements, including cherubic figures adorning the tops of the backrests. These details perfectly reflect the ornamental aesthetic characteristic of the Victorian style, where furniture combines function, presence and decorative richness. The open structure of the armrests and the architectural base give the ensemble a strong, theatrical look. The fabric upholstery, in contrasting shades of warm yellow and deep red, reinforces the singular character of each armchair while retaining their old-world charm. This pair is
