Description

Important polychrome porcelain jardinière by Edmé Samson, late 19th centuryCharming porcelain composition depicting two figures in the oriental taste, supporting a jardinière richly decorated with floral reserves and relief motifs.This piece, characteristic of the productions of the House of Samson in Paris, is in the tradition of reinterpretations of 18th-century European and Oriental porcelain, highly prized at the end of the 19th century. The vivid, delicate polychrome decoration, combined with an animated, expressive composition, lends the ensemble a great decorative presence.The finely modeled figures display lively, theatrical attitudes typical of the historicist taste of the period. The jardinière, with its floral decoration, harmoniously completes this scene, offering an
