Description

An important pair of wall-mounted candle-holder angels, crafted from finely carved wood and gilded with pure gold, dating from the second half of the 19th century. The sculptures depict two winged angelic figures, rendered with great sculptural quality and attention to detail, characterized by an elegant movement of the wings and a dynamic pose that supports the candle-holding arm. The composition is enriched with decorative elements featuring scrollwork and plant motifs, typical of the 19th-century decorative style found in ecclesiastical and ornamental settings. The gilding, which is well-preserved, enhances the richness of the carving and lends luminosity to the piece as a whole. Period: second half of the 19th century. Material: carved wood gilded with pure
