Description

From one of the most famous dinner services of the early 20th century, published on the initiative of the Parisian magazine "Les annales politiques et littéraires", the "mistletoe" service, I offer you six earthenware dinner plates.The service designed by Edmond Lachenal was produced by Manufacture Keller et Guérin in Lunéville from 1900 to 1914.The decoration was obtained using stencils and a sprayer that projected the colors separately or by mixing them, allowing pleasant variations in color intensity, blue, green, mauve. Printed and debossed marks on reverse.Diameter of each plate: 26 cmVery good condition. Color intensity may vary from plate to plate. Some iridescence indicative of wood-firing.Purchase in my gallery of matching dessert plates in 22 cm or 6 other plates in 26 cm. Please note that I respond
