Description

An elegant Venetian nightstand from the mid-19th century, crafted from solid walnut with a splendid original patina. The piece features a compact and harmonious structure, typical of the artisanal craftsmanship of the period. The front features three generously sized drawers with turned knobs; the top drawer also has its original lock. On the sides are two fluted pilasters, which lend verticality and refinement to the design. The top panel protrudes slightly with a contoured profile, while the base rests on turned legs with flattened spherical feet, characteristic of 19th-century Venetian style. Excellent condition, with minimal signs of aging consistent with the piece's authenticity; solid structure and well-preserved finish.
