Description

Italian painter (18th century) - Interior of a cellar during the grape harvest. 39 x 57 cm (without frame), 50 x 72 cm (with frame). Oil on canvas, in a carved and gilded wooden frame. The painting depicts the interior of a barrel-vaulted cellar with three figures engaged in harvest activities: in the foreground, a young man in a white shirt carries a copper vessel and steadies a wooden pole together with a second worker; in the background, a third figure tends to the large casks. On a small table to the left, copper vessels and a white ceramic jug are arranged. The scene, built on a brown and earth-toned palette, reflects a familiarity with the Northern and Flemish genre painting tradition as received through eighteenth-century Italian painting.
