Description

Charming Stippo-style cabinet in dark wood, featuring an architectural front decorated with figures and ornamental motifs in the spirit of the Italian Renaissance. The façade is symmetrically organized around a small central niche housing a figure in the round, probably allegorical. It is framed by leaves and drawers adorned with molded panels decorated with rosettes and lion-head handles. The jambs are adorned with figures sculpted in relief depicting full-length figures, treated as atlantes or servants, giving the ensemble a decorative and symbolic character. The upper part is adorned with small, naked putti-like figures, visually supporting the cornice. The mantel rests on a molded base and has a beautiful patina. The reverse, made of old planks,
