Description

Plaster sculpture depicting a 20th-century man. Italy. This sculpture features the face of a man with an intense and firm expression. The wrinkles on his face, especially around his forehead and eyes, and his thick eyebrows lend the representation a strong realism. The work is supported by an iron rod, fixed to a rough-textured stone base. As can be seen in the photos, the subject's ears have some slight missing parts. Dimensions: height 55 cm, width 27.5 cm, depth 23 cm
