Description

The weave has rarely been finer, and not without difficulty! It's the first sensation, to the eye and especially to the touch. Remarkable, impressive. It's a Khorjin, as it's called, in other words a satchel once used by the nomadic populations of Persia to carry various goods. On the upper part, you can still make out the slotted fastening system. Personally, I find this piece exceptional, and I come back to the finesse of its weaving, which is moving. Exclusively vegetal colors, in perfect harmony and softness. It's elegant, refined, everything we love. Circa 1880 Very fine condition Dim: 72 x 56 cm Laurent Beauty of Kilims
