Description

French walnut desk - Early 20th century
Elegant French desk from the early 20th century, crafted from fine walnut wood. The shaped top features refined veneer work with warm, harmonious grain patterns. The structure rests on four gracefully curved legs, enhanced by finely chased bronze decorative mounts.

The front is fitted with three spacious drawers; above the central drawer there is a pull-out writing slide, a functional feature typical of period desks. The opposite side features three faux drawers, creating visual balance and refined symmetry.

The original bronze handles and ornamental details give the piece a distinctive character, representative of early 20th-century French craftsmanship.
