Description

? Antique cut crystal and gilt bronze lamp - early XXe century ????? This elegant antique lamp captivates with the quality of its materials and the finesse of its design. It combines carefully crafted diamond-patterned cut crystal with a gilded bronze mounting, giving it a presence that is both precious and timeless.???? The faceted crystal shaft delicately captures the light and diffuses it in a multitude of subtle reflections. This regular, deep cut creates a refined play of light, particularly warm once the lamp is lit.???? Through its proportions and aesthetics, the lamp is in keeping with the taste of the early XXe century, a period when a balance was sought between decorative elegance and the quality of materials. It evokes those everyday objects designed to last and beautify interiors.???? The gilded bronze frame has a beautiful antique patina, underlining its authenticity. This slight wear and tear of time adds relief and character, while retaining a beautiful overall luminosity.???? The electrification is functional and has been revised with a gold fabric cable, in harmony with the bronze hue. The flame-type bulb enhances its charm by diffusing a soft, candle-like light.???? Placed on a console, bedside table or dressing table, it immediately adds a warm, elegant touch. It is equally at home in an old-fashioned interior or in a contrasting contemporary decor.???? With its slender proportions - 46 cm high and 10 cm in diameter - it offers a discreet yet refined presence, ideal for structuring a space without weighing it down.????
