Description

- Suite of 3 Empire-style patinated and gilded bronze electrified sconces, 20th century -
Three-light sconces featuring Empire-style decor including a rosette support with palmettes, stylized palmettes with scrolled ends, and a gilded bronze crown chased with geometric motifs serving as a support for three cornucopia-shaped light arms. The latter are carved with elegant scrolls of plant motifs. The gilded bronze wicks are decorated with a frieze of lotus leaves alternating with stemmed buttons. -
These sconces, attractive for the suite of three they form, are also distinguished by the research into material effects that make them up. There is a variation in the chasing techniques used: the polished surfaces of the crown circles bring out the brilliance and stand out more than the dappled
