

Female Bust In Alabaster And Marble - Art Deco Style

450 EUR

Period : 20th century

Condition : Très bon état

Description

Elegant female bust sculpted in alabaster, resting on a marble base, representing a young woman with a delicate face, coiffed in the taste of the 1920's. The work is distinguished by the finesse of the features, the softness of the modeling and the harmony of the volumes, characteristic of the decorative productions of the Art Nouveau / Art Deco period. The bust features a beautiful translucency of the alabaster, with subtle natural nuances and veining. The marble base provides stability and contrast. Visible signature "A. Aurili" on the back. This work is in the style of Richard Aurili, an Italian sculptor active in the early 20th century. Dimensions: 20 / 12.5 / 24 cm
