Description

olie patinated bronze sculpture of an antelope hunter by KOWAS. In the purest art-deco style, this handsome group shows the esthesias of male musculature. Highly stylized, he grasps an antelope horn, holding a large spear in his other hand. Very graphic, an expression of strength emerges from this hunting scene. The subjects are in dark patinated bronze on a large black marble terrace. Large dimensions: 63 cm long by 39 cm high (without the spear), over 16 kilos. Perfect condition, circa 1930. A very fine art-deco sculpture that highlights the strength and estheticism of the male body. Sending method to be defined.
