Description

Important Murano glass chandelier, Italian work dating from the 1970s. This model features an elegant structure with twelve harmoniously deployed arms of light, forming a balanced, airy whole. Made from smoked glass, almost black with an eggplant sheen for the cups when lit, it stands out for the quality of its workmanship and its sober lines, characteristic of Italian design in the second half of the 20th century. The delicately curved arms support flared bobèches. The triple-tiered central section features a substantial shaft adorned with worked glass motifs, typical of the skills of the Murano workshops. This imposing chandelier will bring a touch of elegance to any interior, whether classic or contemporary. Features: Origin: Murano, Italy Era: circa 1970 Material: glass Number of lights:
