Description

Attributed to Roelof van Vries (c. 1630 - after 1681)Expert: Turquin GalleryOil on oak panel depicting a village scene in a wooded landscape, featuring several figures at the foot of a brick cottage with high gables.This composition evokes the work of Roelof van Vries, a Dutch Golden Age painter specializing in forest landscapes and rustic scenes bathed in warm, silvery light. Several characteristics of his work are evident here: the large trees framing the composition, the depth of the path, the brown and golden tones, and the meticulous rendering of the small figures animating the scene.The calm and poetic atmosphere, the quality of the foliage, and the subtlety of the cloudy sky place this work within the great tradition of Dutch landscapes from the second half of the 17th century.A very beautiful
