Description

Oil on wood panel presenting an abstract composition inspired by cubism. The work is structured by a dynamic interplay of interlocking geometric shapes, enlivened by a harmonious palette of reds, blues, grays and cream tones. The various zones are enriched by varied material work, with incised textures and surface effects that accentuate the composition's rhythm. This painting evokes the decorative research of geometric abstraction in the 1950s-1960s, between late cubism and modernist abstraction. The balance of the masses and the quality of the material work make it a particularly successful decorative work. Unsigned work, produced in the 1960s. Presented in an American wooden case. Era: circa 1960 Technique : oil on panel Signature: unsigned Frame: wooden
