Description

Large Restoration-style wood and gilded stucco mirror, dating from the XIXe century, featuring a slender rectangular silhouette and refined ornamentation. Its fully carved frame is enlivened by a décor of shell medallions, flowering twigs, scrolls and foliage, worked with great finesse and enhanced by warm gilding. The sober yet elegant moldings structure the whole and highlight the mirror surrounded by a leafy frieze. The balance between neoclassical rigor and decorative delicacy perfectly illustrates the aesthetics of the Restoration style, where imperial sobriety is softened by a renewed taste for ornament. This handsomely sized mirror brings a noble, luminous presence, ideal for magnifying a contemporary or classical interior. Era: XIXthExcellent condition. Delivery by quotation in France and
