Description

Very elegant antique fan, from the 19th century. The mother-of-pearl mount is finely carved, openworked and enhanced with gold and silver leaf. The strands are worked with delicate motifs, testifying to the craftsmanship of tableterie. The leaf is hand-painted, depicting a gallant scene where a lute player accompanies a cantatrice and a shepherdess. In the bucolic spirit of the era of Louis XVI and Marie Antoinette. Beyond its practical use for refreshment, it's an objet d'art and a historic fashion accessory.
