Description

This suspended chandelier features a 36.5 cm diameter bowl in marmorated glass featuring shades of orange, ochre and brown. These colors are a classic of the Art Nouveau period, and in particular of the famous Muller Frères glassworks in Lunéville. The signature is discreetly affixed to the bowl. The polished bronze mount features three finely chased ivy leaf attachments. Suspension is ensured by three oval-link chains linked to a godroned ram cover with matching plant decoration. The electrification has been completely refurbished in compliance with standards. The lighting system comprises three bayonet lampholders. The light diffusion is homogeneous and gives a nice glow to the basin, emphasizing the color contrasts. You will be able, if necessary, to remove links to adjust the
