Description

Charming solid walnut low sideboard, Louis Philippe style, regional work from the late XIXe. This piece features a sturdy, authentic structure, resting on short block feet, characteristic of rustic furniture. The front opens with two doors framing a storage space with interior shelving, topped by a drawer in the waistband embellished with elegant doucine molding. The slightly overhanging top and sober lines give the piece a fine presence, while retaining a simple, warm spirit typical of provincial production. The interior, left unfinished, bears witness to traditional, functional workmanship. The back is made of vertical planks. Beautiful original patina. Good overall condition, with traces of use in keeping with its age. Functional lock and key. A decorative and practical piece of furniture, ideal for a country
