Description

Elegant portrait of a young woman attributed to Marseille painter François Maury (1861-1933), representative of the Provençal school of the late 19th century. The work depicts a bust-length woman wearing a refined dress in pink tones, enhanced by a delicate floral motif on the bodice, and topped with a large dark hat. The delicate, subtle treatment of the face and the warm palette testify to a fine pictorial quality. Presented in an elegant, richly carved antique frame in the Louis XV / rocaille style, offering a fine decorative presence. The frame has an antique patina with some wear, in keeping with its age. Dimensions: Frame: 36 x 30 cm Panel: 21.5 x 16 cm
