Description

Elegant round dining table by Cassina, a major figure in 20th-century Italian design. This piece captivates with its quality craftsmanship and particularly well-balanced design. The circular wooden top (walnut stain) rests on a refined tripod base, linked by a sculptural cross-arched strut, a strong aesthetic signature that combines stability and visual lightness. The sober, timeless lines of this table fit perfectly into a contemporary, vintage or design interior, and bear witness to Italian craftsmanship in cabinetmaking and high-end furniture publishing. Features: Publisher: Cassina Period: twentieth century (circa 1960-1980) Material: solid wood (walnut stain) Frame: tripod with sculptural central cross-brace
