Description

Sèvres porcelain vase - powder blue background and gilded decoration - late 19th century (circa 1886) Elegant hard porcelain vase from the prestigious Manufacture nationale de Sèvres, dating from the late 19th century, circa 1886. Ovoid in shape with a high shoulder and cylindrical neck, this model features a refined decoration on a powder blue background, characteristic of Sèvres productions of this period. The surface is animated by a nuanced speckled effect, offering depth and subtlety to the color. The neck is adorned with a finely executed neoclassical gilded frieze, composed of stylized repetitive motifs, framed by gold fillets. The quality of the gilding and the finesse of the enamel testify to the skill of the manufactory at the time. Markings on the reverse: Sèvres seal in
