Description

Tuscan Chest in Solid Chestnut - Late 19th CenturyElegant rustic Tuscan chest, crafted entirely from high-quality solid chestnut wood, dating to the late 19th century (circa 1880-1900).This multifunctional piece combines the practicality of a storage chest with the comfort of a bench, featuring a spacious interior compartment accessible via the flip-top lid. The body features a simple yet refined central diamond-shaped decoration hand-carved on the front, a typical element of late 19th-century Tuscan craftsmanship.It rests on a solid, shaped base with scroll-shaped feet and decorative carvings, which provide stability and a pleasing visual flow. The natural dark patina of the chestnut wood, with evident signs of age and wear, gives the piece an authentic and warm
