Description

Italian landscape with ancient city in the background animated by two groups of figures, a mother and child seated on a rock in the center and a couple standing to her left. In the background, a hay wagon pulls into the city. The painting is on its original canvas and stretcher. A few holes, some restored, are visible on the photograph of the back of the painting. The painting is also quite dirty, with oxidized varnish. It is framed in a Louis XVI period carved wood frame. Without this frame, the painting measures 40.7x32.7 cm.
