Description

This portrait dates from the early 19th century. It depicts a young girl adorned with a headdress, her head is slightly turned, her gaze pensive, a nice technique. The work has a frame, also from the 19th century. The work is unsigned, but probably the hand of an artist, the technique is excellent. Attention, the work is sold unprepared, unrestored. There is a significant loss on the left, small losses on the bottom and small stains in places. There is some wear and rubbing, as well as bumps and missing parts on the frame. Our numerous photos will enable you to appreciate the quality of the object. For the condition please detail the photos. Do not hesitate to zoom. The photos are an integral part of the description.
