Description

Superb modular bookcase in stained wood and brushed aluminum structure, published by Ligne Roset in the 1970s, attributed to designer Michel Ducaroy. This wall-mounted system is distinguished by its architectural and graphic design, typical of French modernism at the time. The composition alternates closed pedestals, drawers and open shelves, offering an elegant visual balance and great functionality. The whole rests on a vertical aluminum structure with right-angled brackets, allowing modularity and adaptability according to the space. Very beautiful patina of the wood, warm hue and marked veining. The metal elements provide a modern, timeless contrast. Composition: 2 pedestals with hinged doors, 1 drawer module, 2 hanging units, slow shelves and complete structure. Ideal piece for a
