Description

Louis XVI-style tric-trac table
The removable top is sheathed in brown leather, which can be used as a writing table on one side, and green felt, which gives the tric-trac table the use of a card table on the other. Beneath this top is a smaller, removable one dedicated respectively to the games of Checkers and Chess. Removing this second tray reveals a Tric-Trac game, embellished with bone inlays. One drawer on each side. It rests on four sheath legs finished with bronze sabots. The table comes with a set of tokens and chess pieces. Light uses on the leather.
