Description

This hanging lamp features a central bowl and three tulips in shades of violet, orange and bluish. The set is mounted in a wrought-iron structure with stylized plant decoration, typical of decorative production in the 1920s. The Muller frères company, based in Lunéville, was one of Lorraine's leading glassmakers of the 20th century. Their production, influenced by Art Nouveau and Art Deco, is distinguished by the use of marbled and colored glass in their lighting fixtures. The chandelier is in good overall condition. The glassware has no notable defects (cracks, chips). The wrought iron has been cleaned and waxed. No residue of paint or repainting. Electricity has been completely redone. Diameter of basin: 40 cm Total height of suspension: 90 cm Light wear and tear on
