Description

Louis XVI style walnut chest of drawers, late 18th - early 19th century, opening with four drawers on the front. It stands on tapered legs terminating in small sabots, and features fluted uprights characteristic of the Louis XVI taste. The top is in veined gray marble, molded around the edges, providing elegance and contrast with the warmth of the wood. The dovetail-mounted drawers bear witness to traditional craftsmanship. The brass escutcheons and handles are in the Louis XVI style (inset). The set offers an elegant contrast to the warmth of the wood. The set offers beautiful low, wide proportions, highly decorative and practical in furnishings. Dimensions: Height: 90 cm Width: 130.5 cm Depth: 62 cm Overall good condition,
