Description

An elegant Italian bookcase dating from the late 18th century, crafted from finely lacquered wood with exquisite original gilding. The design is punctuated by elegant fluted columns with decorated capitals, lending the piece a strong classical balance and a striking visual presence.The upper section features a rich carved and gilded frieze, while the interior is organized with spacious open shelves, ideal for displaying books or collectibles. The lower section features paneled doors with geometric motifs in relief and gilded accents.A piece of furniture of exceptional craftsmanship and decorative value, perfect for formal reception rooms, libraries, or prestigious classical interiors. In very good condition, with a patina consistent with the period.
