Description

Buffet En Noyer Blond, a beautiful solid walnut sideboard from Sologne. Beautiful blond walnut sideboard dating from the early 19th century, more precisely from the late 18th century early 19th century. It features two doors and two drawers with its original keys as well as its metal locks and fittings. It is adorned with sober carved decoration typical of this region. Excellent condition of the walnut and beautiful patina, no restoration to report except for the inner shelf boards which have been redone. No foot joints to report. Drawer slides work very well. A preventive treatment with xylophene was carried out at the workshop. Some parts in the sapwood were attacked a little a long time ago but there's no one in them now. The waxed patina of the blond walnut is superb. A large, practical sideboard with plenty
