550 EUR

Period : 20th century

Condition : Très bon état

Material : Glass

Diameter : 30 au max

Height : 44 au mx

Description

A Belle Époque centerpiece consisting of a finely chiseled bronze frame supporting two elements of iridescent green blown glass. The wide lower dish features a wavy, serrated rim, surmounted by a slender cone that echoes the same spiral motifs. The iridescent reflections of the glass shift from green to gold, typical of Loetz productions from the 1900-1910 period. Provenance: Central Europe, likely Bohemia. Condition: excellent overall condition, slight signs of wear consistent with its age. N.B. The object will be shipped disassembled; to reassemble it, simply screw the glass parts back onto the bronze sections.
