Description

Bronze candle holder vase signed Barbedienne & Barrias Art Nouveau late 19th century This small tripod vase in gilded bronze is an ode to the vegetal grace and organic sculptural art that is the emerging Art Nouveau of the late 19th century! Carried by three feet elegantly tied with floral garlands, the body of the vase and its two handles are wrapped with vines that hug a small putti in low relief with tenderness. The patinated bronze reveals subtle golden bronze reflections, while the interior is delicately gilded with fine gold. It can hold a candle like small flowers. Signed Barrias, the famous sculptor of the Belle Époque, and edited by Ferdinand Barbedienne, renowned Parisian bronze foundry master in the 19th century, this vase embodies the savoir-faire and the refinement of an era that celebrated the
