Description

Superb painting by Emile Noirot, titled on a cartouche "crépuscule", and annotated on the reverse "environs de Fontainebleau". A major French painter, renowned for the quality of his landscapes, he was a pupil of Charles François Daubigny and Alexandre Cabanel. In the foreground, a pond with a subtle reflection, in the background a herdsman with her dog. Totally representative of his style, this painting fully expresses the painter's talent for rendering the effect of light in a calm, collected landscape at dusk. To achieve this, he used numerous small touches of white spread over the entire surface of the canvas, giving the illusion of flickering light; Originally framed in an attractive gilded frame (a few small marks missing). Out of frame: 56 x 46

cm Early 20th century
