Description

A rare oak sideboard, inspired by the creations of Gustave Serrurier-Bovy, combining geometric rigor and decorative refinement. Its silhouette is distinguished by a central projection that enlivens the façade and asserts its architectural character. This projection is formed by two blackened wood columns, each punctuated by brass rings at the top and bottom - a detail emblematic of Serrurier-Bovy's aesthetic, where the dialogue between wood and gilded metal plays an essential role.The upper part houses two curved drawers, each with a drop handle and brass lock. At the bottom, two doors open onto an Art Deco geometric veneer décor of mother-of-pearl and stained wood inlays. Their fronts, curved to follow the lines of the cabinet, are fitted with functional locks, a fan key and a discreet pull.The overall impression is one of sophisticated sobriety, where the warmth of the oak, the precision of the veneer and the metallic accents are balanced in a spirit that is both Art Deco and faithful to the influence of Serrurier-Bovy. A piece of furniture that combines elegance, structure and a sense of detail.Era: 1930Excellent condition after restoration in our workshopFinish: waxedDelivery on Quotation in France and internationallyDimensions:Width: 120 cmDepth: 55 cmHeight: 99 cmReference 080426.2https://www.antiquites-lecomte.com/boutique/buffets/buffet-en-chene-dans-le-style-gustave-serrurier-bovy-art-deco-1930/
