Description

These Louis XVI-style armchairs, crafted in stained beech, embody all the finesse of the last great movement of the XVIIIe century.The richly carved structure features a decoration of ribbons and palmettes, delicately worked into the wood.The medallion-shaped back, seat and armrests are adorned with a cross-stitched tapestry decorated with multicolored flowers and a gallant scene at the top. They feature figures dressed in the fashion of the Age of Enlightenment, moving through a bucolic landscape, surrounded by a rich floral border.The ensemble testifies to remarkable craftsmanship, where the architectural sobriety of the Louis XVI style with its fluting, meets the softness of naturalistic ornamentation.These armchairs are pieces of character, witnesses to an elegant art of
