Description

Art Deco sideboard with three doors resting on elegantly curved legs, enhanced by brass trims. The narrower central door features a mirrored panel with gold highlights. The doors feature shell-shaped fittings, while the handles are enhanced by additional rocaille-inspired brass details. The door surfaces are veneered with expressive burr wood, while the rest of the body is in walnut. Profiled edges and panel construction give this piece of furniture a sculptural presence, while the top is highlighted by a black and white marble slab. The interior features shelves with inlaid edges and drawers.
