Description

Important oil on canvas depicting a Medici vase adorned with a flowering bouquet, executed in a remarkable Italian decorative spirit. The artist here develops an elegant, balanced composition, sublimated by a fresco-effect patinated background, evoking ancient plasterwork and the great European decorative traditions. The brushstrokes are free and lively, bringing a real mural presence to the whole. The work, entirely hand-painted, rests on a canvas mounted on a stretcher and is part of the refined production of Italian decorative workshops of the 1950s, aimed at a clientele of architects and interior designers. Work signed at foot of vase Italian decorative workshop work, circa 1950
