PROANTIC
LE PLUS BEAU CATALOGUE D'ANTIQUITES

Low Sideboard In Solid Elm, 1970s Work - French Modernist Spirit

1 550 EUR

Period : 20th century

Condition : Très bon état

Material : Solid wood

Length : 146

Width : 54,5

Height : 95

Description

Elegant solid elm low sideboard, dating from the 1970s, attributed to Maison Regain aptly illustrating the modernist aesthetic of the period.This piece of furniture is distinguished by a rigorous, balanced design, where the geometry of the fronts is enhanced by a subtle play of framed panels. The two doors feature integrated handholds, sculpted into the mass, giving the piece a dimension that is both functional and sculptural.The overall line, sober and architectural, rests on straight uprights that structure the piece with elegance. The warm, deep honey hue reveals the wood's beautiful grain, giving this piece a definite decorative presence.This sideboard is part of the French production of the 1970s, in the spirit of French and Scandinavian furniture of the same period,

Dealer

JS Vintage & Design

Meubles ou objets XXeme

Mobile : 0610280222

1, rue Robilant

Nice 06300

where quality of workmanship and purity of line take precedence over ornament.The interior offers functional storage space, suitable for both dining room use and installation as occasional furniture or enfilade in a contemporary or classic interior.Very good original condition, with a light patina in keeping with its age.A timeless piece, at the crossroads of design and craftsmanship, ideal for lovers of twentieth-century furniture.Careful shipping possible - estimate on request.