Description

Glass paste quadrangular vase with relief decoration of a stylized butterfly surrounded by flowering branches. The piece features a luminous yellow background, contrasting with the warm hues of the butterfly - red, orange and black - as well as the natural nuances of the leaves and stems. The applied decoration, slightly in relief, lends beautiful depth and an almost sculptural aspect to the whole. The work on the material, with its satin and translucent effects, is characteristic of twentieth-century decorative productions inspired by Art Nouveau and nature. A highly decorative object, ideal as a soliflore or display piece. Era: Second half of the 20th century Technique: Glass paste Dimensions: Height when viewed: 20 cm Condition: Good overall condition. Very slight
