Description

Portrait of a little girl in Breton costume. She wears a headdress similar to the ones worn in South Finistère, in the Pont-Aven, Fouettant, Concarneau area. This is an oil on canvas. It is signed lower right: J.J. MORVAN for Jean Jacques MORVAN and dated 52 for 1952. Superb colors, broad brushstrokes, one recognizes a professional painter in the quality of execution of this delightful portrait. Jean Jacques MORVAN is an official naval painter, born into a family of sailors in Morlaix on January 7, 1928. He entered the École Supérieure des Arts Décoratifs in 1945. He was part of the Second School of Paris movement. He participated throughout his life in several exhibitions in France and around the world. I'll mention just a few, as the list is long: - 1947: Salon des moins de 30 ans; - 1951: galerie
