Description

Remarkable wall light by architect and designer Joe Colombo, winner of the Compasso d'oro award in 1967 for his Spider luminaire. The luminaire rotates 380° on its own axis, providing a choice of direct or indirect light. The curved part is slit with a fine cut-out that enlivens the volume when the sconce is positioned in indirect light. Inspired by the portable flash used by professional photographers of the time. The price offered is per unit. A suite of 4 sconces in perfect condition is available.
