the Fontanille et Marraud company in 1936, and in 1942 took over a nearby porcelain factory (the former Pillivuyt factory, rue de l'Université) to supply this white porcelain decoration workshop, whose buildings were enlarged as early as 1936, then raised in 1949 and 1966. In 1981, the manufacturing and decoration workshops were moved to larger premises on rue de la Réforme, Limoges. The decoration workshop was then occupied for a few years by the Etinger company, which brought together its two small leather goods workshops on rue du Crucifix. In June 1989, the company was sold to Mipelli, which quickly went bankrupt. The decoration workshop employed 15 people in 1950, 21 people in 1965.
