Description

We present this inkwell, which I think will be of interest to inkwell collectors, and I know there are many. The special feature of ours is that the main body is covered in granite leather and the lid is solid silver (Minerve hallmark) with interlaced letters of belonging. The stopper is incorporated into the top of the lid, and to open the inkwell you have to press the central button. Very nice collector's item. Weight 76 grPort extra (E26)
