Description

Betel serving tray carved in bone, finely openwork inside and out and decorated with dragons and lingzhi heads, symbols of longevity, as well as delicate floral motifs. The wooden base, probably Chinese rosewood (hongmu), highlights the finesse and depth of the carving. The wooden base, probably Chinese rosewood (hongmu), emphasizes the finesse and depth of the carving. The object is in exceptional condition, with no breaks or restorations, which is particularly rare for this type of antique piece. Thanks to its size and stability, it can also be used as a display pedestal, for example for a statue or Buddha figure, adding both a decorative and spiritual dimension. Testimony to the refined craftsmanship and symbolic richness of late XIXe century Vietnam. Dimensions: 23.7 × 24 × 7 cm
