

Ideqqi Pottery Jug With Long Neck, Kabylia Algeria

160 EUR

Period : 20th century

Condition : Bon état

Material : Terracotta

Diameter : 9.5cm

Height : 39cm

Description

Glazed earthenware jug, Ideqqi pottery Berber women's art, Kabylia Algeria. First half 20th or earlier. Unusually long neck, polychromy and motifs typical of this type of pottery. Please note that the handle has been broken off and glued back on. Otherwise in very good condition."The women of rural Maghrebian societies, both potters and weavers, are the custodians of a culture and know-how handed down from generation to generation, but which today tends to be lost with the rural exodus and economic development. The geometric patterns that adorn the pottery - and which are also found on the women's textiles and tattoos - carry a symbolic meaning that dates back to Neolithic times. The purity of form, simplicity and spontaneity of decoration give these objects a special charm.

Dealer

Famille Fresnaye

Généraliste - Troisième génération

Mobile : 0614240672

Léguevin 31490

They bear witness to a remarkable harmony between function, form and decoration. Extract from the book published on the occasion of the eponymous exhibition "Ideqqi : Art des Femmes Berbères" at the Musée Branly."Free shipping to mainland France. Please contact me by e-mail. I remain at your disposal for further information or photos.