Description

French Art Deco school, "Colombine bouteille" Elegant white and gold enameled porcelain bottle depicting the character of Colombine in a stylized interpretation typical of the Art Deco aesthetic. The figure, with clean lines and a delicately treated face, is dressed in a costume inspired by Italian theater. Gold highlights finely underline the details of the collar, cap and decoration, bringing contrast and refinement to the whole. The lower part forms the container, while the figure forms the stopper of this piece that is both decorative and functional. Origin: French school Style: Art Deco Subject: "Colombine bouteille" Material: white and gold enameled porcelain A decorative piece with sober, refined charm, representative of French decorative arts of the Art Deco period.
