active quarry from the 17th to the 19th century. References: Trianon, salon d'hercule, galerie des Glaces at Versailles and 18th-century furniture. Mantelpiece, salon de la paix, Versailles. Decorative arrangements are very wide-ranging these days, with a variety of different settings. Structure and materials This piece of architecture is distinguished by its admirable proportions and perfect square shape. It is entirely crafted from solid, sumptuous Campan Vert marble, whose veining is enhanced by intricate carving alternating cavets, projections and flats. Facade decoration The antique-style decoration is extremely rich. The façade is enlivened by delicate fluting, embellished by two integrated bronzes representing stylized acanthus leaves and buttons. The whole is elegantly underlined by two moldings: one with a ribboned décor at the top, the other rounded at the base. The Bucket and Finishes The object is topped by a majestic hinged bucket (10 cm high and on each side), featuring classic decorative grammar:- Motifs: Laurel wreaths, asparagus fluting, heart-shaped raisins and gadroons.- Lid: Decorated with stylized acanthus leaves and topped with a flower bud. Functionality The lid opens onto an interior with a gilded brass lining (former ink reservoir). The body of the object also features a receptacle carved directly into the marble mass, acting as a pen tray or pocket divider.
